Drawings

The drawings were received on 7/9/2008. These drawings are not approved because the phantom line is shown as extending into the curable material and the curable material has not been disclosed as receiving the bolt. The phantom lines should be contained with the plastic material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8 and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Oberhofer (US 6,735,921). In considering the embodiment of Fig. 14 for example, Oberhofer discloses a fixing device in combination with a glass panel (1); the glass panel includes an undercut hole (2); the fixing device includes an anchor bolt including a fixing means (6) and an anchoring zone (3) that widens in cross section in the direction of insertion and a covering of resilient plastic material (4) including silicone (column 14, line 34) wherein the resilient material is to permit some inclination of the bolt (see column 1, paragraph 3). While Oberhofer does not specifically disclose the amount of inclination it appears that the 10 degrees would be inherent due to the spacing provide by the plastic material between the hole and the fixing device. Alternatively, the amount of inclination would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art depending upon the amount of inclination needed for a particular application.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oberhofer as applied to claim 5 above, and further in view of Mallon (US 846,493). Mallon teaches the use of a curable compound (lines 65-69) securing a fixing device in an undercut hole. At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the device of Oberhofer with a curable compound as disclosed in Mallon in order to secure the fixing device in the hole and allowing the fixing device to be installed into the hole though the reduced diameter end of the hole.

Response to Remarks

The replacement drawing sheet has not been approved of the reasons as noted above.

Applicants' remarks have been considered but, are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection. Applicants' amendment, in particular the claiming of a glass panel, necessitated the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
